

MELISSA WILLIS

MW
Coaching and Consulting

Build relationships to build your business.

Melissa Willis has lived an anything but ordinary life. Born in New Orleans, she grew up overseas because her father worked in the oil industry. She was fortunate enough to travel the world at a young age, once with her parents and once on her own. Italy, Tokyo, Taiwan, New York, and Los Angeles are just a few of the places she has lived and worked. Her varied life experiences have found their way into many of her presentations through entertaining and pointed stories. Throughout her career, she has experienced the highs and lows that every business owner and professional does. Melissa always chooses to focus on the possibilities rather than the obstacles. Not one to mince words, her realistic approach comes with a healthy dose of positivity and real talk that cuts to the heart of the matter. Those who have been in Melissa's audiences walk away with the power of possibilities for themselves and the knowledge that they've had the tools for success all along.

Melissa began her education overseas and completed high school and college in New Orleans with a degree in Drama and Communications. She has over 20 years of international professional speaking experience. Melissa also has extensive experience in multi-level marketing, the restaurant industry, and the often-wild business of acting and modeling. When you invite Melissa to participate in your event, your organization will be talking about her long after the presentation is over. Melissa Willis always leaves a positive, lasting impact.

Testimonials

"Melissa Willis brings energy and expertise to her speaking engagements. She has a natural gift for engaging her audience and making us think about ourselves in a new light. I've heard Melissa speak several times, and at each event, I've come away motivated to implement positive changes in my business."

Ryan McCroskey, Owner, DMG Design + Build

"Melissa has a way of keeping the audience engaged in a way that I rarely see with speakers. The humor she uses to drive her points home makes her an unforgettable speaker and facilitator. She can tailor her presentations to any group from a full ballroom of varied professionals to a small group of referral partners."

Shelley Ross, Ross Realty Group

Contact Info

504-339-9834

melissamwillis@gmail.com

www.melissamwillis.com

Past Clients Include:

Speaking Topics

- Creating A Ripple Effect in Your Personal and Professional Lives
- The Cost of Staying Stuck...and How to Ensure You Don't Stay There
- The Cycle of Everything and How to Break Negative Cycles
- Getting More Referrals in Your Business
- The DISC Profile and How to Make It Work for You

*Presentations can be tailored to fit your group/team

Contact Info

504-339-9834

melissamwillis@gmail.com

www.melissamwillis.com